1. Course Description

1.1 Catalog Description: This course will introduce students to the history and theological development of the early Church from the post-apostolic period through the end of the patristic period. Throughout the course students will be introduced to and explore the teachings and circumstances of the primary figures in the theological period and selections of their writings.

1.2 Importance of the Course: The Catholic Church teaches that genuine renewal of the Church follows the vibrant encounter with the Fathers and to that end the course will seek to cultivate the study of the Fathers “seriously and lovingly,” as the privileged witnesses to the living tradition of the Church.¹

1.3 Goals: Students will (1) To survey the lives, teachings and selections from the writings of the major Church Fathers; (2) To introduce the varying styles of theological exposition used by the Fathers; (3) To develop an understanding of the development of major doctrines concerning the Trinity, Christ and the Church through the Fathers; (4) To introduce students to the models of Scriptural interpretation utilized by the Fathers; (5) To develop an adequate understanding of the Fathers’ theology and theological method for students to incorporate in their theological studies.

Haga referencia detallada de las grandes herejias, de los grandes concilios, en los que intervinieron los Padres de la Igleisa” “Why study the Fathers? Make detailed reference to the great heresies and to the great Councils in which the Fathers of the Church intervinied” What important points would you explore? Prepare an outline for your PowerPoint presentation. Attach a brief explanation or note for each point in your outline. Finally, compose five questions you think the group might ask of you, and tell me, clearly and succinctly, how you would answer them. Please submit the whole assignment as a single file.

7. Academic Standards

7.1 Academic Honesty: All the work you do in this course is expected to be your own. Absolutely no cheating or plagiarism (using someone else’s words or ideas without proper attribution) will be tolerated. Any cases of cheating or plagiarism will be handled according to university policy and reported to the University’s Academic Misconduct Committee. They will also be reported to appropriate ecclesiastical authorities where applicable.

As stated in the Norms of Conduct for the University of St. Thomas, academic misconduct includes: (a) cheating (using unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise), plagiarism, falsification of records, unauthorized possession of examinations, intimidation, and any and all other actions that improperly affect the evaluation of a student’s academic performance or achievement; (b) assisting others in any such act; (c) attempting to engage in such acts.

Plagiarism is using the work of another person and claiming it as your own. The most common types of plagiarism include:

- Using a paper or portion of a paper prepared by someone else;
- Quoting someone else’s language or words without proper quotation or citation; and
- Paraphrasing someone else’s ideas, framework, or insights without giving credit to the original author in a citation.

Students are very strongly urged to consult the following websites for additional information on plagiarism and how to avoid it:
