Private Trombone lessons for a half hour weekly.

Students will receive assignments each week, are required to practice outside of lesson time and come prepared to show their progress.

Students are required to perform for a jury of professors at the end of the semester except in the case of taking lessons for the first time.

Grading is based upon expected progress throughout the semester and consistent attendance.