Social Justice Teachings

Subsidiarity: Integrated in each course in the Counselor Education program is a sense of community. Students are guided to respect different perspectives within normed views. By using case study samples, students are exposed to varying situations not otherwise experienced.

Dignity and rights of children: The dignity and rights of all University of St. Thomas counseling program students along with the grade school students in which they work with receive confidentiality, respect, and appropriate supervision.

People have a right to an education: Equality is a major theme integrated in the Counselor Education program. In each course equality is stressed as evidenced in courses such as, however not limited to, Cultural Foundations and Multicultural Populations.

Required Texts

Course Description

The course examines the cultural context of relationships, issues, and trends in a multicultural diverse society. An emphasis is placed on a knowledge base related to theories, skills, and models of diversity utilized in working with culturally diverse populations. Students are given opportunities to explore the impact of racial/ethnic groups on the social, economic, and political foundations of the United States to examine their own cognitions, feelings, and behaviors regarding race, culture, and religious diversity.
COUN 5335 Multicultural Populations will develop the student’s self and professional awareness. The course will challenge and support students to grow in their knowledge, abilities, and skills to work effectively with all their publics, including but not limited to communities, families, students, administrators, counselors, clients, teachers, staff, and supervisors. This course may result in some students feeling discomfort; students will be supported in their journey by understanding the painful realities, which are part of the experience of living in the United States.

This course will provide students with opportunities to examine and investigate educational needs in a culturally plural society. Although the course includes the universal view of multicultural theory, it takes the focused view, which holds that culture and diversity are different constructs. The theories and practices of the fourth force (Theories of Multiculturalism) are explored. The historical, philosophical, and psychological foundations of professionals in a pluralistic society are investigated by identifying and focusing on major racial/ethnic groups in the United States. The impact of the various identifiable racial/ethnic groups on the social, economic, and political foundations of the United States are also explored. At the same time, a point of view of this course is that race is a socio-political construct with no basis in biology. Students are given the opportunity to examine their own cognitions, feelings, and behaviors regarding race, culture, and diversity in order to be able to be effective educators with all populations in the United States in the 21st century.

State Adopted Proficiencies for School Counselors

Integrity
Integrity is the most important quality for success in this course and in the Counselor Education Program at the University of St. Thomas. Integrity requires students to be authentic and honest in all academic, professional, and affective work. Integrity implies that students become familiar with and practice at all times the Code of Ethics of the American Counseling Association (2014). Professional counselors perform their service in an environment of trust. They have the potential to do great good and great harm. Integrity is absolutely essential for the adequate performance of their profession.

ADA Statement on Disabilities
The University of St. Thomas maintains a policy for students with disabilities in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Under these federal guidelines, the University is obligated to:

1. Protect the civil rights of students with disabilities.
2. Protect the confidentiality and privacy of students with disabilities.
3. Provide reasonable accommodations and services to students with known disabilities, who are qualified to meet the requirements of the academic program, apart from the handicapping condition.
The burden of proof is on the student to demonstrate the need for requested accommodations. If you feel you are qualified to receive accommodations, please contact the Office of Counseling and Disability Services on the Second Floor of Crooker Center or call: 713-525-3162 or 713-525-6953 between the hours of 8am-5pm, Monday through Friday.

Professional Standards of Behavior for Students and Faculty

- Use of UST Email Accounts: All email correspondence will be through the mystthom email system. Please check your email through your mystthom account daily for correspondence and announcements.
- Late Assignments: It is the instructor’s policy that late assignments will not be accepted. Exceptions to this policy are only allowed due to individual extenuating circumstances and will be at the discretion of the instructor to accept a late assignment and to make appropriate point deductions for lateness.

Emergency Contingency Plan

As this is an online course, in the event of a campus evacuation or closure our course is not affected unless otherwise described. Should such an event occur, I will continue to interact with you by using the Blackboard Announcement and Email. If you have access to the Internet, you will be able to continue your coursework by posting assignments and interacting with me as well as each other online using Blackboard tools.

Evaluation and Grade Assignment

The methods of evaluation and the criteria for grade assignment are:

Attendance, Preparation, and Participation

Students are expected to be virtually present for and participate in all five class discussions. All readings are expected to have been completed. Please be prepared to participate within course discussions using the provided discussion board each week. Be sure to provide a clear response to each weeks’ discussion board prompt.

Midterm Examination

- The midterm exam will cover readings reviewed in course session 1-3.
- Review sample questions and terms.
- You have 2 ½ hours to complete 50 multiple-choice questions and/or essay.
- Select a situation with no distractions or interruptions.
- When you complete the midterm exam, hit the SUBMIT button.
- If you experience issues related the midterm exam please e-mail or call me immediately.
- Prior to the exam you may discuss the exam with your peers.

Final Examination

- The final exam will cover readings reviewed in course session 3-5; in essence, all material reviewed after the midterm exam.
- You have 2 ½ hours to complete 50 multiple-choice questions and/or essay.
- Select a situation with no distractions or interruptions.
- When you complete the exam, hit the SUBMIT button.
If you experience issues related to the final exam please e-mail or call me immediately.

Prior to the exam you may discuss the exam with your peers.

Collective Memory Cultural Story

Students will write a paper exceeding no more than three pages. Students will write their own cultural story as it pertains to your collective memory. The first part will cover the following: What event/situation/experience/role-model/memory first defined you as to who you are as part of a cultural/racial/gender/social/etc. group? What memory (ies) first defined who you are today? Were they positive/negative/both? What transpired? When? How? Who were the key players? How did you know you were Asian? Black? Hispanic? Native American? Middle Easterner? White? Etc.? Your story may take any direction you wish to recount/relive and retell. The second part will be a reflective part on what you wrote, recalled and what memories were brought to surface. This portion will explain your feelings, emotions, thoughts, ideas, and things you learned from writing your collective memory cultural story. In short, what did you learn about yourself that you had not thought about before or considered?

Theoretical Analysis

You will complete the following task by creating a 10-minute presentation using technology (powerpoint, etc.) describing one of the following theories. The student will select one theory from the list provided during the first class session- students will post their selection within the Theoretical Analysis Sign-up, Discussion Board tab via Blackboard. Please select a theory that has not been listed by your peers. The student will address each point listed below:

1) Explain the theory and give an operational definition as you understood it, not the author’s words.
2) Speak on the strengths as well as the limitations of this theory.
3) How can this theory help educators become more sensitized to people who are unlike themselves. Place yourself as the school counselor educating your faculty/staff on campus.
